

Testimony from Laurel Brooks
National Director of Engagement

The Lord is moving in Washington, DC!

I just got back from the March for Life in the nation's capital. My Faith Votes grassroots volunteers – our Action Partners - joined tens of thousands of pro-life advocates from across the country to rally in support of every precious human life from the moment of conception until natural death. It was a powerful and spirit-filled experience.

Temperatures were falling, snow was flying, wind was whipping, but tens of thousands of faithful marchers were not deterred. Sometimes the fight for babies and their mothers can feel like a lonely one, but standing among thousands of cheery and hopeful pro-lifers reminded me that we are an unstoppable movement—a tide of love—and we are not alone in this historic struggle.

The Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade was a massive victory for Life, but now that the issue of abortion has been given back to state governments, our biggest fight has left Washington and come home to our communities across America.

This means that our local activism, our battle for hearts and minds in our own backyards, is now the most important front line in the charge to end abortion and save the unborn.

There are 90 million self-identified Christians in the United States today—but only 65 million of them regularly vote! Can you imagine the seismic shift in American society if all people of faith made their biblical convictions heard in our politics? Not just in our fight for life, but in every arena where faith, hope, and love can create a better country for all Americans—and a better world for all people.
